Touch Of France Season 2

H. E Anne Sophie Avé
(Former French Ambassador To Ghana)

Touch Of France Season 2 is the second season of a 13 episodes TV show hosted by the former French Ambassador to Ghana Anne Sophie Avé.

The TV show invited Ghanaian celebrities and public figures as guests to discuss culturally relatable topics in business and entertainment between France and Ghana.

The show had amazing guests such as the president of Ghana H.E Nana Akuffo Addo Dankwa, Sarkodie, Jackie Appiah, John Dumelo and so many other amazing personalities.

Flammous on this project was the composer of the bilingual theme song « bouger le monde » made for the show and a creative director contributing with marketable contents and ideas for advertisement.

The song went ahead to make great impacts in Ghana by making waves on radios and even appearing in Europe on radio stations like Radio France Internationale.

Flammous also performed the song at the Launch of the show at the embassy of France in 2021 as well as performing it at several events to promote the TV show.

He was finally endorsed by the ambassador as one of the best and most versatile songwriters in Ghana with unique qualities in intercultural relations.

LETTER OF RECOMMANDATION

Young musician Iluve Abdallah Yakubu Mapakou Jnr also recognized as “Flammous” is a songwriter and entrepreneur who surprised us with his creativity and talent. He wrote, played, recorded, and sang the track « Bouger le Monde », a bilingual song that was specially made for season 2 of our award-winning TV Show Touch of France.

The song <<Bouger Le Monde>> by Flammous made international appearances in media houses in France and Europe such as Radio France Internationale (RFI) and more which makes Flammous a Ghanaian internationally recognized and credible musician.

Together with his team “Flamboyant Vision”

- Our TV show “Touch Of France” was reviewed from season 1 to 2 in 31 days.
- Created a social media strategy to increase views and traffic to the show.
- Produced social media content for the show.
- And proposed a social media management strategy to manage our social media handles and increase subscribers.

He writes and performs in several languages. He displayed a real showman talent when he was invited to present his tune at the launch of season 2 of the TV Show. We recommend Flammous as a brand that provides satisfaction to its clients.

Supervising Director & Translator

Africa to the World is a landmark initiative by renowned YouTuber Wode Maya, with over 1 million subscribers, dedicated to showcasing Africa's untold stories and vibrant landscapes often overlooked by Western media. Through immersive video documentaries, the project brings to light the rich cultures and impactful work of African entrepreneurs who drive positive change within their communities.

As Supervising Director of Translation, Flammous collaborated on this project to bridge language gaps for Francophone audiences, overseeing translations of documentaries from English to French and vice versa. His work ensured monolingual French speakers could engage deeply with Wode Maya's content, enriching their understanding of Africa's diverse cultures. To date, these documentaries have collectively garnered close to 10 million views on YouTube, with Flammous's role making a substantial impact for French-speaking viewers who previously faced language barriers.
